Industrial civil construction

Our track record includes successful completion of the civil works for major industrial and multi-discipline projects that include desalination and power plants, petrochemical and gas installations, cement plants, utility installations, factories and high tension electrical substations. Our Civil Works Group is bottom-line driven. We're structured to meet the critical demands of time and budget, while maintaining a sharp focus on innovation and creativity and because so many of these civil works disciplines are intertwined on so many projects, we offer comprehensive, wide-ranging services that help you achieve your goals. No need for multiple vendors; just a single point of contact to get your job done on time and within budget.
